Cool find, Rusty! Let us know how its quality turns out.

Amazon has their branded devices on sale, and their quality isn't bad. Just keep in mind that anything with a screen is likely going to include random ads that can't be turned off.

Several stores have AirPods on sale. To get the best bang for your buck, shop through a cashback shopping portal or turn in the receipt through a shopping app.

Remember when Black Friday was truly a one-day thing? Well, it's seemingly morphed into a month-long event now. It just doesn't feel special anymore. I also miss the good 'ole days when some stores gave away prizes to the first hundred or so customers. They were pretty decent prizes, too, like TVs and cameras.
