I'll tell you upfront that this will likely only appeal to studio artists, mixers, and producers. It's the stripped down version that's free, but despite its limitations, the plugin is still incredibly useful when it comes to mixing music. You'll get five effects modules, like EQ and modulation, which are great for enhancing the warmth and depth of your audio. It comes with a nice blend of presets, too. Lifeline works with many DAWs, such as Ableton, GarageBand, Logic Pro, Reaper, and Reason. It's one of the easiest plugins to use that I've ever tried. You can pick it up for free online at the Plugin Boutique with code Holiday23 until January 2nd.
