I don't watch many pay channel shows simply because I'm such a tight wad with the scheme. But the freevee app on the old roku has opened up possibilities. That's how I got a hold of Bosch. Probably the most compelling cop show I've ever seen. He lives on black coffee and whiskey done up neat and Fat Tire beer. You never see the guy eat. I've started to watch the new Fargo season my sister gave access to with the Sling app. Why anyone would pay for that app with the most commercials per viewing I don't know. But, I can't bitch

I've read the show The Old Man which left viewers hanging by its cliffhanger break from Jeff Bridges cancer scare then the writers strike will return. So old Jeff popped a viagra and is raring to get it on again I reckon.

The Lincoln lawyer is a fine movie of seamy jurisprudence. Check out Killer Joe, Wayne. Matthew McConaughey plays a corrupt detective that hires out for hits. And the True Detective series that he and Woody Harrelson teamed up to solve a psycho killer case.
