Subject: Is this a good DAC option?

Just got my first pair of legit headphones for music only, beyerdynamic DT 1990 Pro. I'll basically be listening through my desktop PC, so looking at combo amp/DAC options. The one that sounds like a good buy without being crazy expensive is the iFi Zen DAC V2. Am I on the right track? From what I've read this setup should get me well on the way to experiencing music and not just hearing it. Just looking for some confirmation before I pull that trigger.
