The ruse continues. The United States is backing a coup attempt... Again in Venezuela. Why does our country continue to lie and connive in the affairs of sovereign country's? It's our unhinged neocon ideology pitting capitalism vs socialism. And Central & South America has been kept under our influence since the Monroe Doctrine, Keep out of our sole imperialist, colonialist sphere of banana republic control. This is the inheritance of how the British with their, "the sun never sets" on their empire mentality ruled their far flung countries. Including our country.

The world is much more integrated now by technology and with the ideal that cooperation is necessary for dealing with world wide issues. But the vestiges of colonialism still are intrenched with our country's elite mindset. Our country's heyday was in the last century and today in the 21st century is showing its sayonara from a self inflicted economic doctrine having eroded our society as other former 3rd world countries have risen with a socialist/market economy blend.

Our meddling continues unabated since from the 20th century. As Venezuela's latest election shows. It's shameful and petty that our country does this corrupt dealings. Lying to the public with a propaganda apparatus to feed our corporate news media.
Ben Norton. A journalist that really does just due to the principles of journalism does his homework rooting out the hypocrisy that our country perpetrates.
