I'm somewhat familiar with the harmonica player, Lama Kassem. She's definitely gifted. I hadn't thought to look up which styles other female players use, but it makes perfect sense now. Thanks for giving me the idea, Rusty. Kassem's using an Honer, but I'm not a fan of that brand, so I'm going to try one of her other favorites, like a Suzuki or Seydel model. Hopefully I'll get somewhere this time.
