I got stoned today... With the album Let it Bleed by the Rolling Stones. I think it's their overall best album they produced. At the top of their creative abilities. Which was always of a high order. But this album just for me has every track a fine effort. I haven't listened to it for some time. So its impression was renewed for my praise of it. My copy is a reprint on the Abkco label. It helped ward off the cold, cold winter we're getting so far this winter. The North Pole is creeping down south to make us appreciate mild weather.

One from it. Monkey Man. The intro is just tremendous. S'pecially when you crank it some.
