There's some pics here under the heading of 2Pi Towers down the page a little showing what we used on my friends pair of speaker. We used Ash wood. I looked up Khaya wood and that's beautiful looking. It would be stunning. Bet it's costly. But hey, you're going to live with it for a long time. And you only live once. So let the good times roll.

Enough Khaya veneer to do the sides, tops and bottoms was £50 so not too bad. MDF is £30 a sheet and plywood is £140 a sheet so I'm still saving enough to pay for the crossover components, binding posts and anything else I might need
