T.H.E. Film Festival (Highlands Room)

The T.H.E. Film festival is one of Emiko Carlin's babies. It's so cool, and is one of the unique extra things that she and her crew bring to T.H.E. events.

There were short films created by independent film producers running during the entire show. Not only do they have interesting visual content, but they were produced using high-fidelity sound recording techniques and were presented to the audience using high-end audio equipment from SVS Sound.

How cool is that?!!
