Canvas HiFi (Room 230)

Canvas makes an interesting and attractively simple panel that incorporates a complete sound system for home theater. Actually, it can be used purely for high-fidelity sound without a television monitor, but it was designed to be placed underneath a television.

This is a product that isn't best captured with photography alone. It looks like a simple panel, and that's it. Which is why it's so cool.

And it sounds great.
