They do look sweet, and you're super-lucky to have a pair for your collection.

I vividly remember the JBL 4311 speakers in a Tulsa high-end dealer's showroom. I also remember the JBL 4430 speakers a few years later, which was an eye-opening - rather I should say an "ear-opening" experience.

Similar on the low end, but very different on the high end, reverberant field and total presentation.

Good memories!

Seeing your 4311 speakers takes me back to those days, and to my impressions of various speakers in the 1970s and 1980s.
