Yeah, you see this outfit is headed by David Van Zandt, a member of the Council of Foreign Relations. An entity referred to in the book American Exception. An organization of elites funded by Wall Street. "An incubator clearinghouse for Establishment prescriptions and conventional wisdom". So, sure it labels MOA as a biased and misinformed blog.

Oh yeah, no bias there, fair and honest fact check courtesy of Wall Street.

I'll stick to MOA. Its not as well connected as Mr. Van Zandt. Or as biased. Just the facts ma'am.
