Subject: Re: To anybody that's seen a MQ S-271-A...
Posted by bretldwig on Tue, 26 Dec 2006 10:29:30 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I think the best policy is to copy the real Peerless product with as close precision as possible, to state that that is what has been done, and to adopt a policy of not even looking at the MQ versions. That way he cannot allege you have cobbed his necessary adaptations. Not that it would matter anyway.