
Subject: Re: Less People Listening To Radio
Posted by Becky on Fri, 24 Oct 2025 16:30:45 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

noodle wrote on Mon, 20 May 2024 11:19 Where there are cars, there will be radio listeners. At the very least, people will tune in when other options go janky and they don't want to drive in silence. That's true. Sometimes, I can just tune in when I am tired of my phone or when I'm getting bored. I've been in a bus where the driver tuned in the radio because everywhere was quiet, it helped the atmosphere at the moment.
