Ah-HA! Good eye!

And - yes - I see it now. There are two crossovers in your uploaded image labeled IMG_1668.JPEG. The one in the foreground is correct, but the one in the background is wrong, just like you said. It's kind of blurry in the photo, cause the camera is focused on the crossover in the foreground. But you can see the bad connection.

If you click on the image link below the photo in the post, and then click on the pic when it's displayed, it will zoom in and you can really see it.
