Subject: Theater 4 for sale in Denver
Posted by jason on Fri, 09 Mar 2007 16:28:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I'm selling my 4 month old Theater 4's. I love the sound, but we have a baby on the way (woo-hoo!) and I'm going to have to downsize. I'll sell them with or without the cabinets. The cabinets are unstained baltic birch (cabinet grade) with bracing made from walnut (hardwood). All you need to do is give them a little stain and you're ready to go.If you want the parts only, I'm asking $275, shipping included. I've got all the original boxes. If you'd like the complete speakers, I'm asking $350, but they will be too difficult to ship, so you'll need to pick them up. I'm just outside of Denver, Colorado.If you are interested, just shoot me an email and I'll be happy to answer any questions or email you some pictures.Thanks,Jason

Subject: Congrats on the baby!
Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 09 Mar 2007 17:06:39 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

your wife be so far along she would be uncomfortable at the LSAF in May? Melissa was there last May when she was 5 months pregnant. If she was further along, it may have been tough on her though. If you and your wife can come, we'd sure love to see you there!

Subject: I may be interested - a couple of questions for Wayne ...
Posted by jimbop on Fri, 09 Mar 2007 23:44:21 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Wayne,Two questions about the Theater 4's:- Are they an easy load for a 2A3 amp (3.5 watts)?- Will they work ok against a wall?Jason: I live in Colorado Springs, so I could drive up to get them.Jim D.

Subject: Perfect fit
Posted by Wayne Parham on Sun, 11 Mar 2007 03:34:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

the impedance curve is very benign. The speakers are also designd to be placed against the wall. So I'd say you're definitely in luck with these for your application. Go get 'em!