Try talking to 15 yr olds. You might as well be speaking Mandarin whenever you use a reference to anybody anymore.

Oh yeah; well you ain't no spring chicken yourself there. By the time your little guys hit 15 you'll be lucky if they're speaking the same language the way things are going. You think it's fun hah? Wait'll they all have to get to; Football/baseball/music/lacrosse/SAT prep-courses/summer camp/running clinics/math tutors; oh yeah; old Colin will be pretty scarce around these parts."Say; whatever happened to whats his name?"
