Subject: Dr. Dementor
Posted by colinhester on Sun, 17 Jul 2005 15:37:13 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Every Sunday night back in junior high / high school (late 70s, early 80s) was spent listening to the Doctor. The new songs were always the topic of discussion during lunch on Monday. We would record the shows and spend hours writing down the lyrics. Every once in a while I catch myself wishing for those times again.....Colin http://www.drdemento.com/

Subject: Re: Dr. Dementor
Posted by Wayne Parham on Sun, 17 Jul 2005 15:40:36 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I remember Dr. Demento! Now days, I listen to coast to coast AM instead. It's not usually funny, but it is unusual. Lots of talk about space aliens, ghosts, Illuminati and stuff like that.

Subject: Coast to Coast
Posted by colinhester on Sun, 17 Jul 2005 16:04:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I listened to CtC everyday when they streamed their audio. I really like Art Bell. Geeorge is Ok, but he's no Art.There was always some goofy stuff, but everyone once in they would have an interesting guest. I really like the conspiracy guys, and the chemtrail / HAARP people was always good. As out there as some of these people were, there was some valid science to back up some of their claims. I remember this one guy reciting weather patents, and I thought it was complete BS. Nope, there are patents on weather control - not the iodine seeding kind either - issued to some big corporations (Raytheon comes to mind.).....Colin

Subject: Re: Coast to Coast
Posted by Wayne Parham on Sun, 17 Jul 2005 16:12:59 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Yeah, I've been listening to Art Bell since the early 1990's, almost daily. I agree with you about George. He sounds like he isn't really into it like Art Bell is. I like 'em all, different personalities, but I like Art the best.Did you get the CD interview with Malachi Martin? Remember Mad Man Markham?