Waking up this morning as I usually do at 3AM I decided to work on hooking up the subwoofers today. But how to account for only one pre-out on the passive box? Y-adapters of course. So I made some from cast-off parts. Now to see if the drivers are a drop in replacement for the 2226s in the former BatSpeakers boxes.

Cool! But what the H are you doing getting up at 3am? If I got up at 3 I'd only get about 1 1/2 - 2 hours of sleep a day.

I'm usually crashed by 11, tho'. They want me to go to a sleep clinic but I don't have any 'dress' jammies.
