We watched Constantine this weekend, and I thought it was great. If you like apocalyptic movies, you'll like this one too. It's one of those "angels verses demons" movies.

I'd like to see the T.V mini series Revelations with Pullman and Fonda, which is just like this one... sort of..

I wanted to watch that mini-series too but always found myself busy. I'm hoping they'll release it on DVD so I can check it out. You know how I dig movies like that. Really looking forward to The Exorcism of Emily Rose.

I was looking forward to this flick also, then I read a review. The previews really hip up the movie as scary, when really it is a court room drama. I was disappointed...

I was sitting in class talkin with the chick next to me, and it turns out she's into scaryish movies. And she gave this nothing but good reviews. She compared it to, but stated it was more freaky then the Exorcist. Saying it was more real, not with stupid Nickoleden smile faces to disgust, but really physical effects from the possesion(I.e. severe weight loss, insect eating)..
