I went to see an advance viewing of "The Cave" with a group of friends this evening. It was OK, but just. I see a lot of ads for it, so I think they're hoping promotion will bring people in before word of mouth speads a so-so review. Wait for this one to hit the cable networks.

This movie is following the likes of Mimic and Species, Personally I thought they sucked... so.. But if you liked either of those..
