

---

Subject: America's Beef

Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 09 Jan 2004 19:52:42 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Bill brought up the issue of Mad Cow in America's beef. Wednesday night, I heard an interview with Howard Lyman who said that America had been extremely lax in checking its beef for years, and the difference in quality control between America and other countries may be the only reason it hasn't been detected before now. In short, he said that there was some reason to believe that it may have been here all along, and that we just don't know it. Then again, I'm probably still not going to slow down on the steaks or anything. What about you?

---

---

Subject: Re: America's Beef

Posted by akhilesh on Fri, 09 Jan 2004 21:20:39 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi Wayne, I'll be serving barbeque chicken tomorrow, if that tells you anything! -akhilesh

---

---

Subject: Re: America's Beef

Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 09 Jan 2004 22:01:41 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---