Well, two friends crashed their car beside the road, and one who was not using the safety-belt was thrown out through the window. The police came, pulled him out of the bush and said:"No safety-belt, smart-ass? Look at yourself - you are full of blood, scrathes and mud! Look at your friend, who used the belt - he`s looking nice, like he is still alive!"Well, aside with bad jokes, I don`t like it when The Law commands me speed limits, driving with lights-on, use of safety-belt... But, so many people and so many cars, it`s a necessity.BTW, I like "Crash" movie, but not in real life...
