How many of you survived Memorial Day?And how many without incident? I mostly rode my motorcycle with a group of good folks. Went to the lake a couple of times. Gotta love the bikini's on a fine summer day. It was beautiful there!But today is Monday, er, uh, Tuesday so it's been back to the grind all day long.

Great to hear! its our holiday next monday,Queens birthday or something! (thanks mrs queen great to be of the commonwealth!) :-)one things for sure, those sports bikes dont look comfy compared to harleys!if it was warmer here, Id buy myself a motorcycle,and cruise around NZs twisty roads! there are some 50km/h corners on main highways(which are 100km/h rated)! 1 lane highways for 500km with 5passing lanes! Gota watch out for the highway patrol though,are cops are more interested in getting speeding revenue than catching crims! (they have quotas to reach /hr)its hard to find a 2km long straight stretch :-P

I wish we could all get together for a ride. In fact, I wish we could all get together every weekend in the summer for rides.Check it out: We get together mid-afternoon at someone's house and check out their latest audio hobby project, sort of show and tell. Then we all ride out to a lake an hour or so away. Grab a bite around dinnertime and hang out a while before heading back. Then a nice night ride brings us back home.

Hold on.. let me get my pen;... now what are those directions again? Lets start the favourite summer song list, "Summer", by War. This thing will happen, God willing and the creek don't rise; one of these days. The Norton P-11 is a great tempermental beast and always a thrill to ride, mine is a 64 Atlas. Wayne what is the route of your favourite ride? Does that lake exist? Will there be a pair of Pi10's there to blast the favourite sounds at respectable volume? Driven by two of those monster Macintosh 1000 watt amps? And some scantily clad eye-candy? Nothing like the smell of Nitrous in the night. Vaya Con Dios Mi Amigo's.

You want to ride to a lake? Come on up to Michigan. We have a few lakes. If you have about four days to spare we could ride the entire shoreline of them and see more lighthouses then anywhere else in the country. Besides, crossing the Big Mac on a bike is a real thrill!Dave ;^)
