Subject: Post below
Posted by Manualblock on Tue, 30 Aug 2005 13:33:15 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hey; where's the national guard; this is their job where the hell are they?Working for Halliburton overseas.

Subject: Rescue Operations
Posted by Wayne Parham on Wed, 31 Aug 2005 10:09:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Navy Ships and Maritime Rescue Teams Are Sent to Hurricane Region

Subject: Re: Rescue Operations
Posted by Manualblock on Wed, 31 Aug 2005 22:18:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

About time. What about inland; there's maybe 1700 national gaurdsman left in the south. Whose gonna provide all the mobile support systems that constitutes what the guard is mandated for.What if we had a full contingent of National Gaurdsman on hand; could some of this tragedy been mitigated maybe? And don't think that those Five ships coming here wasn't like pulling teeth for the administration. The guy carped about cutting his vacation short by two days for crissakes.Guy takes more vacations than club med.

Subject: Re: Rescue Operations
Posted by Wayne Parham on Thu, 01 Sep 2005 12:26:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I sure hope Charlie is alright. I think about him all the time, 'specially after news reports and hearing people talk about the hurricane. Man oh man.

Subject: Re: Rescue Operations
Posted by Manualblock on Thu, 01 Sep 2005 13:50:24 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Anyone know where in NO he lived?