I'm watching Spike's movie and the scene where Malcom is riding in the car to his death they played Sam Cook's "Change Is Gonna Come". I had to go dig out the album and play that song again. Jesus that guy can sing a song. I don't see much mention of the good sound; Soul R&B is the foundation of all current pop music; what; did everyone forget? All kinds of get-up about that elevator Jazz; where's the music man? Otis Clay Shuggie Otis Sam & Dave Sly Stone James B. Temptations. "Papa Was A Rollin' Stone." Marvin Gaye, "Troubleman." Sam Cook and the Soul Stirrers The Staple Singers Issac Hayes, "Walk On By." Oooh; gotta go put on some music....

And of the course the legendary Johnny Otis Show. Something that for me was highly unusual was hearing Nina Simone's recording of "Mississippi Goddamn" during a news show. Just lately I heard a speech on that same news show by Professor/Reverend Michael Eric Dyson. I thought it was Malcom X when I first turned it on. Here is the direct audio video link to the speech:

I would like very much to read and hear this. I can't seem to get it to load on my PC. Would you happen to have the website? Thanks. I used to go see Shuggie Otis years ago; once with the Johnny Otis band. It was real rock; good stuff.

www.democracynow.org has a full compliment of media styles to get their broadcasts. pod cast, bittorrent, over the net streaming with real player which is how I listen to the daily broadcast. I'll got back and see if the link loads for me and forward any other options. I believe a rush transcript is available for each day's show as well. It's well worth seeking out.

Here is the rush transcript of the Dyson speech. [Below] I'm recording it as an mp3 if you want me to send it to you, I can make an attachment. I don't know much about podcasting and I'm still pretty vague on BitTorrents too, but that is the best way to playback one of these broadcasts. Send me a mail and I'll forward the audio. It's way better than the transcript.

That address is just the one that ART uses for people that don't list an address. You'll need to ask John to drop you a line so you can reply to one of his E-mails.

ok.Well, I think the file is too big for most mail anyways-- 23mbfor a speech nearly a half hour long.When he catches up with this and wants a cd mailed,I can do that, but it's easier to do it direct ifpossible. It wouldn't save to 'sent mail' either.I'm glad I made a file of it anyway. It will, I hopeget a bit of circulation in one of the curch communitieshere.

email me your address.It'll be easiest (without a huge download) to send itto you. I'll be making a few burns of this anyways. The source has stopped talking about torrents so I don'tknow if they are doing that. I've had some difficultygetting avi's onto dvd using free programs.
