anywhere else would be sitting in the pokey right now. 1.5 pounds of pot and 0.2 pounds of shrooms and all he got was a misdemeanor citation. That's it?!?! Damnit, I'm moving to Louisiana.I hope he resupplied before the next show, or it's going to really suck

You're quite right about that, but wron about Louisiana - highest incarceration rate in the nation and the longest sentences - if I recall correctly no nation on earth can compare with the percentage of it's population behind bars.
 Don't do wrong in LA

I think they had to prove it all was his; although we could have told them it was if they asked.Here on LI they have busted two different middle-aged pot growers in the past yr. With big indoor hydroponic grow centers. It's a nice side-business.The woman worked as an addictions counselor; always serve your customer base.I see a lot of grey hairs out there smoking again; the kids are grown and gone; hey what the hell. " Say honey; did you get that big box of oreo's and the Mars Bars?"
