I read an article a year or so ago that talked about these 60's muscle cars that were now reaching values close to a million bucks. I remember not very long ago they were sought after, but only to the tune of maybe $5K or $10K, double or triple the showroom purchase price. Most thought that pricey in the 1980's, but for a good condition original, most thought it was worth it. Kinda funny now, since the same car is selling for nearly a million bucks.

That's a pretty damn slick Cuda!!! There was a older lady in the small town down the road from my hometown that sold a mint 1963 vette for a couple grand back when I was in high school. It was her deceased husband's car and had been in the garage covered for 15 years or so. She had no idea what it was other than it was a Chevy. Couldn't do that now with knowledge of ebay and the internet.
