And if you know someone, would you kindly refer them to me? My oldest is starting college next year. I need a little supplemental income.

Something tells me that the seller wanted to ask $4.85 for the knob, and that the shopping cart just has a wrong entry. We'll probably see that change. It is a nice attractive knob for five bucks and I use a lot of knobs like this for tube radio restorations. But I've got the low down on a good vendor so I'm getting 'em for less than five hundred bucks.

Look at the rest of the site...it's an upgrade to a $6000.00 volume control. He means $485.00 all right.Probably would go well with some of those little pylon things I've seen to hold up speaker cable off the floor like it was a 135KV transmission line.

Subject: Wow, cool. Give me a dozen of 'em!
