Gee, that Bottle Head guy gave me a great idea!!! He said it was soooo much FUN to stick hot vacuum tubes up your girlfriend's butt, and boy was he right!!! We got off on it, and now we stick tubes up each other's bungholes EVERY DAY! You should try it!

I Don't know, Challenged brought it up. My joke is just old vaudeville stuff. There is nothing new in comedy since then. Hey Wayne, where is everyone? What are they timing this free album contest? Counting the posts? J.R.

Could be that people are at the Denver show. Or it could just be that it's Friday and people are getting their work done and preparing for the weekend.Check this out - Yesterday, it was about 80o in the AM so even though we were supposed to get some rain, I did a lot of errands on my motorcycle. I knew that if it rained, it was warm enough it wouldn't be too bad. Just be cool with the new rain slick spots.So finally it starts raining, and it's that warm thick rain that soaks you and makes you feel like you're swimming. Kinda funny. So after a while, it stops and I think I'll probably get dry from the rest of the ride. I even went inside for awhile and could have changed vehicles to take the car for my next round of errands. But it became nice outside and I thought probably the ride would dry that last little bit of damp out of me. Could have changed into dry clothes or could have taken the car. But I figured I'd ride again.As soon as I got back out on the road, it burst into heavy rain that made standing water high enough to stall a dozen cars or so around town. I guess it was just my day to get wet.

That'll teach you to be a rebel! Next time just wear your flippers. How are the winters there? Can you ride regularly?

Hi John,Yeah, you can ride here pretty much year round. We have a few days that get below freezing every year, and it's probably not cool to ride then 'cause the various liquids that find their way onto the roads can freeze in a thin haze. But you knew that. Basically, the winters are mild and while it may be a little uncomfortable to ride on a 40o day, that's what most days of our winters are, 30's and 40's, with a few days that sneak into the 20's.Wayne

When I was younger man we used to ride in the winter occasionaly. I wore a wetsuit top under my jacket. Walking into the diner I looked like the Michelin Man in black.
