If the biggest subwoofer in the world (see previous item)may have seemed to daunting to duplicate, there's theseinfinite baffle guys who use a modified approach of possible interest. About a year or so ago, _audioXpress_ did a series oninfinite baffle testing. This IB forum shows some actuallapplications of the theory.

I like the idea of IBs but would only bother implementing it if i could afford the drivers! i mean quality drivers,not crappy non shorted ring car ones:-)
