Mary Jo Kopechne is the girl Kennedy killed when he drove off the bridge. So now read Kennedy's quote again...""What the American people have seen is this incredible disparity in which those people who had cars and money got out and those people who were impoverished, drowned."and then Mary Jo Kopechne says: "Ditto"Get it?

Jokes are supposed to be funny; just so you know. I have no problem with Kennedy/Kopechne Jokes; I just require they be humorous.

You obviously had no idea who Mary Jo Kopechne was. Or the joke would have been apparent.

When I first met (in a bar) my "war hero" friend, he talked to some people about one bloody action, after that he and some other soldiers had to creep through the swamp. They "caught" dozens of leeches, and the only way to remove them was to undress and use burning cigarettes. One guy even had a leech on his pecker. They helped each other to remove the small monsters.Me: "It is the most homosexual story I heard in my life."He: "WHAT? What`s your point? You think that war & army are just some kind of twisted man-game, that weapons are just the extension of the penis, and that I was in the army just because of young boys?Me: "Exactly."He: "Huh... you are probably right..."
