Why disrespect me like that? I gave you the courtesey of a real answer.Even Mr Vinyl never resorted to such simpleminded tactics; at least he had the cojones to defend his position. I disagreed but always respected him for that.

At least they could have put someone besides Robin on there. He's so lame!

John, sorry, but I'm very busy. I told you that I don't like the big brother mentality diluting all our freedoms, and that's all I needed to say. If that's simple minded then call me a simpleton. But don't bring my cojones into it, this isn't the right kind of forum for that.

I think there is more to it than that. If you choose not to reply then thats fine; but why allow me to write a sincere response then disrespect it?

I don't like any government intrusion. I think a man should be judged by his actions, not by what some analysts think he might do. I've made my opinion very clear; It's not a single issue thing with me.I've said that I don't like to talk politics on a public messageboard, so I would appreciate it if you would stop trying to draw me in. If you want to talk audio, fine. But I don't like talking politics or religion here.

I was trying to not be rude, to give you the courtesy of an answer, if only a brief one. So I posted replies instead of ignoring you. I don't post in the Dungeon very often because I don't like the politics down here. The threads usually turn one-sided or insulting or both.

I didnt see that; no insults; or excoriating words. I only saw a responsible discussion up to a point. Then I dont know exactly what happened except the reasonable replies suddenly stopped. You may ask yourself why do I care? Well you posted also; so you must care in some way too.

Dude, I'd question his motives if he's trying to put his head where I think he is.

There`re many "suspicious" moments/illustrations from those old comics on "Superdickery.com" pages...it`s hillarious...for example - how can Batman and Robin sleep in the same bad? They can, `cos they are just (straight) friends...
