Never having the will nor fortitude to sit down and read gov't legalise, could you summerize the act into sections you consider relevent to personal "rights/priviledges"?

Well I can say the quick reply; you have lost most of your privacy rights. You have lost most of your protections against unreasonable search and seizure; you have lost some of your freedom to travel. All rights garraunteed in the Constitution and of course you could ask Wayne to post his favorite saying again to remind everyone how precious our liberty is.
