Interesting; seven guys who couldn't find Iraq on a wall size map and who practiced terrorising in their back-yard in Miami. Hmm/ There is no way this could be a set-up to take our minds off the continuing rising death toll over there in oil land?Man these guys were comical. The neighbors were interviewed and they couldn't help but start laughing when the reporter asked questions about how scared they were to know this terrorist organisation was in their town. It's a rap group; one of them said.What do we got so far; the "Terrorists"The "Man-Woman Marraige" amendmentThe north Korea Missile...Geez can they be more obvious?
