To try and understand events that are far away and have causes and effects that we can't see or experience. But if you are afraid to discuss these things then you only hear one side of every story. And whatever source of information you happen to use; that define's how you think. I can't be so narrow-minded; I got to hear it all. Then make up my own mind about truth and lies.

Hey Bill; nice weather how about you'll? Spent a week in Montauk and caught a nice 24" weakfish. Little golf and tennis and the past few weeks everyone's out on the boats due to the fine weather. Little floating and drinking; floating and drinking.....How about yo?
