Subject: Seven Pounds
Posted by Melissa Parham on Mon, 22 Jun 2009 03:41:59 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

So we watched Seven Pounds and I have some serious mixed emotions,
I have to say I really enjoyed it overall, as the purpose of a movie for me is to take me away, make me think, laugh, cry, and possibly want to b@#$h slap someone who in my opinion, probably deserves it. And this did all of the above. (in a way reminds me of Magnolia, only in the same respect that I was riding the roller coaster of emotions all the way to the bitter end!!)... Must see in my book...

Subject: Re: Seven Pounds
Posted by love4music on Thu, 11 Mar 2010 17:52:51 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I'm with you on this one. I love Will Smith but I wasn't 100% sure about this movie. It really did make me laugh, cry and feel bad and then happy in the end. I didn't let my daughter watch it though.

Subject: Re: Seven Pounds
Posted by Lazarus on Fri, 12 Mar 2010 20:14:09 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I haven't watched the movie, despite that it has been around for more than a year. The only movie which got me serious mixed emotions is Forrest Gump. It is also the only movie that made my cry in the theater.