It is Tim Burton's new movie. A rendition of a classic cartoon to be released in USA on the 5th of March 2010. Starring Johnny Depp as The Mad Hatter, Helena Bonham Carter as The Red Queen, and Anne Hathaway as The White Queen. Try to check this out guys. Is it as interesting as the director's previous movies?

Johnny Depp looks crazy as the mad hatter in this movie and in this poster he looks a little like Elijah Wood. I can't wait to see this movie though. I like all of Tim Burton's movies and I think it will be interesting to see his interpretation of this classic movie.

Yeah, I'm eager to see that movie too. Burton is hit and miss for me though - loved Edward Scissorhands and some of the animated stuff but others are downright weird. The Willy Wonka remake was hard to watch for me. Wilder was way better than Depp, in my opinion. Wilder was eccentric but Depp was just creepy.

I have seen the thriller and it looked fantastic, just like other Tim Burton's movies. I cannot wait to see this movie. I am not a big fan of Johnny Depp, but he is a good actor and always play well in Burton's movies.

I have to agree with Wayne about the Willy Wonka thing. Remaking that movie was almost criminal. I don't think anybody could ever compare to Gene Wilder in that role.

Anyway, I am looking forward to checking out Alice in Wonderland. I do like Johnny Depp for the most part and I think he and Burton usually do good things together.

It's a shame but I have to admit that I haven't watched the original Willy Wonka with Gene Wilder. Willy Wonka starring Johnny Depp looks great and I like the movie. Did Gene Wilder really perform much better than Johnny Depp did?

I think Wilder was more likable in the original Wonka movie, that's all. I like Depp in a lot of stuff, but in Willy Wonka, I thought he was kind of creepy.

I haven't seen Alice in Wonderland yet even though it is already released in cinemas. It just don't have enough thrill from the trailers or previews. Maybe I like the classics better.

My niece went to the see the movie and didn't like it because Johnny Depp looked too much like a clown and she's afraid of clowns.

Depp does look pretty spooky in those movie posters.

I finally saw this movie about a week ago. I'm not really entertained by the whole movie. I think the movie is made for children with a bit of violence at the end.

I was never really fond of the original Alice In Wonderland and Tim Burton's version really didn't do much to change my mind. My nephew's however, ages 5 and 8, loved the movie and go online to watch the trailers over and over. It will be one of those "must buys" for them.

I was speaking to one of the women I work with and she said the original Alice in Wonderland book was totally different from the Disney movie and this movie is a little more accurate.

Not seen this, my bad I just couldn't stop thinking of 'Charlie and the Chocolate Factory' when I saw Depp in the posters and ads. That was one disturbing movie on so many levels.

Yes, yes, yes...Depp was creepy.

You are not alone in this and I think for me personally its that I know too much about him as a real person to consider him anything like a real Wonka. Something just does not chime right, now as for Alice I did watch it and it was mostly enjoyable but something was still off with that too, just not as much as Wonka was.

I originally thought this would be a good family night movie..I was wrong! My son was scared after the first 20minutes so my wife and I watched the rest of it after he went to bed. I really enjoy the 1st one better. Like others have stated Depp is really creepy in this movie. I like Tim Burton's work, this one just is no comparison to the original. If there was nothing to compare it to than yes it is a good movie.
