I personally would like to see a place where people could trade CD's. Maybe post a list of what you have and others do likewise then trade even up for those old CD's you never listen to for someone elses old CD's they never listen to.Anyone for Charlie Daniels "Fire On The MOuntain".Man I have disc's I never even opened.

That's a pretty good idea. Think it could be done in the SwapMeet forum?

I guess if there were people who wanted to do it. I think a thing like that takes a while to catch on.

Swap meet forums usually work pretty well and they will bring people to the forums if there are sellers on there selling stuff at a reasonable price. I think this is a great idea.

Sounds like a good idea to me. I'll make a list shortly if you decide to go ahead with it.

That sounds good I'll join you and make a list also; although I don't know where to put it since technically we aren't selling anything.

Well if worse comes to worse we can e-mail the lists we have to anyone interested and play e-mail tag for a bit I'm in the middle of harvest so I wont be doing much of anything for another 2-3 weeks. Unless we get a thunderstorm and a lot of rain.

This a good idea. I'm sure many would come to like this. I have CD's of my own but they're all pirated copies.

I think this sounds like a great idea. I've had big plans to sell the CDs I no longer listen to on eBay but never quite get around to doing it.

I have many collections of Cd's at home. I guess it's too many to mention it here but I'll try my best to post my lists. Most of my CD collections are song of 80's and 90's.
