Hello All...

I seem to have a heck of a time reaching the LSAF via Google... Used to be so easy... is anyone else seeing this and if that is the case... wondering what can be done?

I'm not having any trouble reaching the LSAF website. Click: LoneStarAudiofest.com

Let us know if it comes up for you.

One thing I've noticed when doing searches is there are a lot of forums and other pages that discuss the LSAF and link to it. As a result, many of them appear in search results and these push down the link to the main website. I'm not sure that's a bad thing though. It's probably good to have all the links. Sort of an "all roads lead to Rome" kind of thing.
