

---

Subject: What's one radio moment that stands out when you play it through your system?

Posted by Bercle on Mon, 19 Oct 2026 08:57:52 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I've been thinking about those special radio moments that one can easily remember. Is there a particular radio moment that still stands out when you play it on your system?

Maybe it has to be a clear, distant radio station late at night or a classic show that felt so real when played through your speakers. Do you remember any that was that was that unique to you?

---

---

Subject: Re: What's one radio moment that stands out when you play it through your system?

Posted by Wayne Parham on Mon, 19 Oct 2026 16:14:34 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I personally don't listen to radio for a sensation of reality or clarity. It's not a qualitative choice for me, and I don't expect those things from radio at all.

I use radio for convenience. It is a convenient way to get background music and information.

I also kind of like it that I know thousands or millions of people are listening to the same station. Especially when I'm listening to a program being broadcast live. When I know that a program is airing with unique content - and I'm listening live - that gives it a spontaneity similar to what I experience at an in-person event.

---