We have a smaller room upstairs, the past owner took the attic chopped it in half and made two mini rooms. One is now the master bedroom (yes I know how funny that sounds), the rooms are small and I was wondering what can be done to get a better sound from the room between watching TV up there and the occasional music. Help?

I'd just put together a little secondary system. You can make a pretty good budget system that sounds way better than the internal speakers. It doesn't have to be on the same level as your main system, but can surely be better than the tiny built-in speakers.
