Gary Coleman passed away today from a brain hemorrhage. He fell and evidently suffered head injuries from the fall. I hate to hear this. I really enjoyed "Different Strokes" when it was on TV. I'm afraid I didn't enjoy it so much in reruns when I got older though.

This is the first I heard of this. That is terribly sad and he was quite young. It seemed the lives of all the child actors from that show were plagued by tragedy. May his family dwell in God's peace.

It's the first I heard of it too. I wonder how I missed it. I'm really sorry for his family too. I loved watching him in Different Strokes when I was a kid.

Man, that's sad. Amazing, too. I remember watching him grow up.

I saw this last week and thought how ironic it is that Bret Michaels suffered the same thing and he survived. I'll miss Gary Coleman! He was such a character and had so many emotional outbursts but he will always live on in our hearts.
