

---

Subject: Symphony season is here.

Posted by Shane on Thu, 26 Oct 2006 00:22:06 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Well, the first concert is this weekend. Again, I put off getting season tickets, but am on the waiting list for surrendered tickets. Which means we'll always get seats anyway. I had my choice of 6 different pairs for this performance. I did pick up 4 tickets for the family to see the Vienna Boys Choir in Feb. My son is into choir this year and I thought he might enjoy/appreciate hearing something beyond the local middle school!

Amarillo Symphony

---

---

Subject: Re: Symphony season is here.

Posted by madhatter on Fri, 27 Oct 2006 10:23:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Well I love going to see the Trans siberian play. I go see them every year around christmas time.

---

---

Subject: Fantastic First Performance

Posted by Shane on Sat, 28 Oct 2006 02:24:10 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Well, the first performance of the year was outstanding! Miss Chu-Fang Huang was most a extraordinary pianist. She was hitting the keys so hard at times that the whole Steinway was moving around!, yet could pull off the most delicate of passages as well. They are in the process of choosing a new conductor and Eduardo Espinel was much better IMO than the gentlemen they had in previous years. He was very animated and genuinely enthused with the music. Really prompting each section to rise to the occasion and give their best. It will be interesting to see the other "finalists" the selection committee has chosen.

---