I want to start building a personal library of great movies. What would you name as your top 4 or 5 movies that everyone should own and not just rent?

Cinema Paradiso (the Director's cut): the best, most complete movie
The Usual Suspects:
fun Terminator 1 & 2: fun
Lie with Me: intense-akhilesh

5 is tough! Gimme 20! Off the top of my head I like: Warriors of Heaven and Earth --a Mandarin movie. Exceptional cinematography!!! three way tie: Apocalypse Now, Platoon, or Saving Private Ryan
Shindler's List
Lord of the Rings trilogy
Clerks - just because it's low budget and stupid funny.

Thanks for the response. I would like to build up a private library of really great movies and I can't wait to get started.

Serenity! was by far one of the best movies.....lets see.....Harry POTter.. number 2.. tehone with the Mandrakes.....Fifth Element thogh I am not sure thats been within the last five yearsPirates of the Carribean, the first one was better than 2.....come to think of it oits been pretty small pickens.. Ok SAW 1 and 2 were good, SCARY MOVIE 4 was comical.....Now then we have The Weather Man, 8mm, a bit older but good, Bringing out the dead.... I am very picky in my movies these I still rent.....

Wow, with so many votes for Serenity, I think I'd better make it a point to see that one!

>5 is tough! Gimme 20! 20????? Okay, of these seven you named, Warriors of Heaven and Earth, Apocalypse Now, Platoon, Saving Private Ryan, Shindler's List, Lord of the Rings, and Clerks, which two would you suggest buying for someone who's just starting a home library? (Yes, I know it's tough.. you didn't like 5, now I whittled it down to 2!)
