Anyone else watch It's a Wonderful Life every year? I do, and it makes me cry every time, too. I usually do that on some weekend day during December, so it's soon time. I'll start collecting tissues.

Its a wonderful life is great, I usually see it at least once during the month of December, but I have to say my favorite is Chirstmas Vacation, (for a lighter note)....I laugh through the entire movie.

I'm not very familiar with that title... unless it's the one with Chevy Chase... is that the movie?

Christmas Vacation has been a family tradition for years here. I have two boys who were in their early teens when it came out and they loved it. They wouldn't watch It's A Wonderful Life. Too sappy they said. being young boys I understood For all around funny movie we have quite a bit of the dialog memorized to The Princess Bride and somebody would always start repeating it on long trips in the car. It sounded better to me than "Are we there yet?"

Yes it is, and actually I am watching ELF right now with Will Farrell, it really cute, they are both pretty clean. Bad Santa is my husband favorite (not so much good clean fun) but funny.

I didn't see ELF yet, but there's been enough mention of it lately that it's on my to-do list for this year. Actually I'd like to get all of the old classics to watch this year.

Too sappy might fit, but that's the exact thing that hits me in the gut and makes me cry every year. Plus it's the whole idea behind it... it's brilliant. Anything different in our life and all things thereafter would be different forever. It's just very poignant.

Obviously not a Christmas flick, but a very good movie is "Mr. Destiny" with James Belushi and Linda Hamilton. It's based on the main character changing one event in his life, hitting the winning run in a HS baseball game, and how that one event transforms his future. Very good movie, IMHO.....C

Bad Santa is crude and funny. But Badder Santa is better yet! Princess Bride is one our all time favorites. We just finished watching The Polar Express and that's a pretty good movie.

I was waiting for someone to mention "Bad Santa"! But OK, I'm not that much of a Christmas fan anyway. And, as far as I recall, it was always maintained, that "Bad Santa" WASN'T a X-mas movie. I like it a lot. Billy Bob Thornton is great, and the supporting cast is very good, too. It helps I have a little crush on Laureen Graham (Lorelai in "Gilmore Girls").

The holidays can get kinda rushed for me, with gift buying and work and traffic and all the other extra stuff you have going on during the holiday season. Adds a touch of frustration and "Bad Santa" always makes me laugh so I like to watch it during the holiday season. Never want to be a Scrooge and that movie helps me laugh at the hustle and bustle.
