I am looking for an amp to drive my b&w nautilus 805. I have 2 options in my mind which are moon and audioresearch vs 110 & sp 16. The moon sound a little bit like tube up but not as open as tube. However the look of AR 110 & sp16 is extremely poor compared to the moon. Has anyone listen to both amp and please give me some of your comments on these amp. Thank you very much the website is www.audioresearch.com, and search for vs 110 and sp 16, they are built to match each other Seeker mentioned that website earlier today too, over on the Tubes forum. Wow! Great looking stuff. Thanks for bringing this to my attention!
