I am currently watching this item
<http://cgi.ebay.com/ws/eBayISAPI.dll?ViewItem&item=160462233163> on Ebay. What do you think of it pricewise? (Or any other wise!) I don't really know why but I feel like I need to have it.

I think it would be worth a hundred bucks if it has a stereo output.

Shipping is rather expensive on that item, may put a lot of people off from bidding. That would definitely stop me from putting in a bid.

I guess it depends on why you really want it. If you don't have the inclination to do any repairs or upkeep (as and when needed) it could just be a white elephant.

Did you decide to buy it? Ebay has really good deals often on audios, electronics and so much more. I am an avid ebayer myself. My husband has bought sound equipment from ebay and was very pleased with his purchases.
