The Netflix streaming server has been down over 24 hours now. No instant movies. Anyone know what's up?

I like Netflix and hope they can get their kinks worked out. They're a relatively new company, and have no doubt suffered growing pains. But they seem to have crippling outages of major customer facing services at least once a month. Those guys really need to step up to the plate or eventually someone else will come along with a better mousetrap.

It seems to be working now. I have no idea what causes their glitches but it has happened before several times. Once they closed down for 'routine maintenance' on a Friday night! (That was the official story anyhow!)
