Many radio channels of today have gone online. I listen some online radio but I get to buffer so many times. I have a 6Mb download speed according to my ISP but I still get buffers. What do you think I need to do to avoid buffers?

I'm surprised that you're experiencing buffering issues with 6mb of speed - I've enjoyed online radio with much less speed and minimal buffering. Are you listening straight off the website, or is it going through Windows Media Player or another player?
